

I am a detail-oriented visual design communicator, and illustrator. My creative focus is on visual identity (branding), custom illustrations, design production and innovative precision hardware assembly. I combine creative backgrounds in packaging with character designs. I have acquired a technical mastery of customized mechanical keyboard creations. Building these complex devices requires an immense amount of attention to detail and finite trouble-shooting skills. I am a very disciplined, thoughtful, emerging young professional with a strong foundation in customer service and collaborative team experiences. I aspire to create high-quality results, and I am excellent at meeting strict deadlines and technical specifications.
